GOVERNORS' TRAINING

Principles:

Governors need to be equipped with the skills and knowledge to support the Headteacher and employees in ensuring the school is run efficiently and produces the best quality education for the pupils.

Practice and Procedures:

To meet the above aim the Governing Body will:

- Appoint a Development and Training Governor (DTG) at the first full governing body meeting of each academic year.
- Have training on the agenda of all governing body meetings.
- Ensure the funding provided for governor training is fully utilised and provide further financial support, if required, to meet the training needs of its governors.
- Take up any action points identified through training aimed at improving its performance and monitor their effectiveness.
- Have a whole governing body training session every year.
- Will meet all reasonable travelling, subsistence and child-care costs related to the attendance of training courses.

To meet the above aim governors will:

- Attend the Induction for New Governors course. This should preferably be within six months of commencing their term of office.
- Attend courses relevant to the committees on which they sit and any specialist role(s) they may hold (Special Education Needs, Training Liaison Governor, Chairman, Clerk etc.) This should preferably be completed within one year of taking on the role but it is recognised that convenient courses may not always be available within this timescale. Give a report on all training sessions attended at the next governors' meeting they attend.
- Share course papers with colleagues.
- Attend the whole governing body training session.

To meet the above aim the DTG and/or Chair of Governors will:

- Undertake the school-based induction of all new governors.
- Keep relevant resource materials to support the governing body's training function.
- Actively promote training within the governing body.
- Keep accurate records of the attendance at training evenings for all governors.
- Undertake periodic training needs analysis based on skills audits
- Ensure that training information is distributed to governors as quickly as possible.
